

Dallas M. Stout, Psy.D. (Clinical Psychology)

For someone who decided to go to college at the last minute during his senior year in high school, Dr. Dallas Stout has made quite a name for himself. Dallas grew up in a racially diverse suburb of Los Angeles County. Many of the youth that he attended public school with did not attend college. Dr. Stout takes his opportunity seriously. Dr. Stout and his wife were humbled to be named “2015 Honorees” for the 30th anniversary OC celebration of National Philanthropy Day. In 2010, Dallas was very honored to receive the Linda Kearns Prevention in the Community Award from the Orange County Substance Abuse Prevention network. In late 2009, Dallas was nominated to the Boy Scouts of America 100th Anniversary, National Hall of Leadership. In 2004 he received the coveted Ambassador of Peace award from the Violence Prevention Coalition of Orange County. He has also been honored by the Orange County Department of Education with their "Excellence in Education" award. In addition to those individual awards, he has received awards on behalf of the groups of troubled youth he has inspired including the Outstanding Youth Group award from the National Philanthropy Day OC as well as the Volunteer Center of OC's Spotlight Award for outstanding service to the community.

Dr. Stout has worked in the Southern California non-profit community for nearly 25 years. Among his varied work projects, Dallas ran one of the larger programs for developmentally disabled adults in L.A. County. He managed all marketing & admissions for a regional drug treatment center. Additionally, he spent many years as Managing Director of the largest residential drug treatment center and academy for substance abusing youth in Orange County. Currently, Dr. Stout runs his own business, "DoctorS Nonprofit Consulting" which he co-founded in 2004 with his wife Dr. Debra Stout. Dr. Stout is on the Faculty at California State University Fullerton (since 2007) where he teaches in the Department of Child and Adolescent Studies. In early 2018 Dr. Stout joined the Online Faculty at Brigham Young University – Idaho where he teaches a popular undergraduate Abnormal Psychology course. In late 2018, the University of the Rockies, where he taught since 2009, merged with Ashford University. He is now an Associate Online Faculty Member of Ashford's College of Doctoral Studies where he teaches a variety of Doctoral courses in Psychology, Wellness, and Leadership as well as Non-Profit Principles, Practices, Governance & Finance. He holds a national certification in online class design and teaching from Quality Matters (QM) as well as a similar certification from The California State University. Additionally, Dallas been invited to teach undergrad and graduate courses for the School of Education at the University of California at Irvine.

Dr. Stout has professionally demonstrated his experience & research interests at local, statewide and national conferences including the American Psychological Association. Dallas has been interviewed on numerous T.V. and radio shows. He has assisted in the completion of 10 Doctoral Dissertations with many more in progress. He has completed clinical internships at New Beginnings (Lakewood), Straight Talk (Cypress), F.A.C.E.S., Inc. (Fullerton), Woman's Transitional Living Center (Fullerton) & the California State University Fullerton Counseling Center. He served his Pre-Doc & Post-Doc internships with the O.C. Healthcare Agency, Children & Youth Services division at a clinic in Santa Ana.

Dr. Stout currently serves on the Board of Directors for the Acacia School Foundation. In 2015 he was honored to be appointed to the City of Fullerton Police Chief's Advisory Board. Dr. Stout served as President of the California State University Fullerton Nonprofit Professional Alumni Association from 2013 to 2016. In late 2015 Dallas "retired" from the Board of Directors for the Orange County Substance Abuse Prevention Network after over 20 years. He is also immediate past President (2010-14) of the California Chapters of the Brady Campaign to Prevent Gun Violence as well as their Political Action Committee in Sacramento. He served as Co-Chair of the Board of Directors for the Violence Prevention Coalition of Orange County from 2002-2010. Dallas has served on the boards of the O.C. Chapter of the Brady Campaign to Prevent Gun Violence, O.C. Problems of Addiction in Labor Management, Inc. and the O.C. Wellness Coalition. He has also served on the Advisory Boards of the Gianneschi Center for Nonprofit Research, La Calle, Inc. and the O.C. Safe From the Start Coalition. Dr. Stout is honored to be a Lifetime member of the National Eagle Scout Association. He is a member of the City of Fullerton's Fire Department Community Emergency Response Team.

Dr. Stout Earned his A.A. degree at Cypress Junior College, his B.S. degree in Human Services at CSU Fullerton & his M.A. degree in Clinical Psychology with an emphasis in Marriage & Family Therapy at Azusa Pacific University. Dallas also earned his Doctorate in Clinical Psychology at APU where he graduated with special recognition for his work with troubled youth and their families. His interests in psychology include troubled teens (including substance abuse, violence and gangs), mentoring, personal motivation, leadership, & cultural diversity. His personal interests include travel, antique collecting, and reading, (especially U.S. history).